

- Elder J. C. Walker read the “New Hampshire Declaration of Faith” from Pendleton’s Church Manual. The Church Covenant was then read by Elder H. C. Vanderpool. Both were adopted by the church.
- Those who were going into the organization of the new church met in the altar. The organizing prayer was prayed by Elder T. C. Jones. The twenty-seven then elected to enter into covenant together as one body in Christ and to declare themselves an independent Missionary Baptist Church. Elder J. H. Smith then delivered a charge to the newly organized church.
